CHURCHES ARRANGE FALL SCHEDULES

END OF VACATION SEASON IS MARKED BY ACTIVITY

ACCOUNTS BEING MADE

Conferences Attract Much Interest, too—Masses Are Rearranged In Catholic Churches

The Maryville churches are beginning their activities for the fall, after the usual vacation time in August. The Rev. S. A. Coile, who has just returned from a vacation trip to Tennessee and Wisconsin, will begin the new year at the Presbyterian chuech Sunday with a new series of sermons.

The Baptist church finished up its business year with a meeting last Wednesday evening. The four circles of the church reorganized and elected new officers for the church year. Rev. W. C. Ferguson and several of the church officers are making ready to attend the annual district meeting of the church at Elmo September 9 and 10 of next week.

Tomorrow the Methodist church officers will make their every-member canvass to raise church funds and get the business affairs of the church in shape so that their complete report may be made by Rev. W. A. Burris at the quarterly conference Wednesday, September 10.

Rev. R. C. Holliday of the South Methodist church is attending the annual conference at Mexico, Mo. This is the conference that has to do with the hearing of the church reports for the year and redistributing the pastors for the new church year.

Rev. R. E. Snodgrass of the First Christian church started on his vacation a little later than most of the other pastors. He will not be here for church services until the last Sunday in September. In the meantime the Young Men's Bible Class of the Christian church is going along with its work. The subject of Christianizing community life has been subdivided into topics for the fall months. A committe has been appointed to investigate the many social problems of this community, resulting in many revelations as to the wage scale in Maryville, education, entertainment, poverty, disease and crime.

Tomorrow the class discussion will be led by G. L. Wilfley and a particularly interesting program is promised. September 14 E. D. Cook, a former member of the local church and Sunday school, will give a talk. Mr. Cook is at present assistant superintendent of the Industrial School for Boys, St. Anthony, Idaho, and his discussion will take up the problems that he has met there. September 21 will tell the class of some real problems with which he has had to deal. Tomorrow the class discussion will be led by G. L. Wilfley, and a fine program is promised. A good attendance is urged. All men are welcome.

Secretary of State Sullivan is trying to get all of the data for the Blue Book in this month in order that it may be printed and ready for distribution by the last of December. In this county the organization of the Democratic and Republican women's committees has not been perfected or reported and it is necessary, if the names are to appear in the Blue Book, that action be taken at once and report made to Secretary Sullivan.

NEWS FROM

NODAWAY COUNTY TOWNS

Conception Courier.

The second annual street fair and horse show held here last week was a decided success in every particular, notwithstanding the fact that the committee in charge had to contend with a factor not included in the program. J. Pluvius, armed with his gigantic watering pot, started in on Monday, repeated on Tuesday, continued on Wednesday and threatened all day Thursday in such a manner as to discourage those who contemplated attending. But the program as arranged was carried out to the letter.

The music was furnished by the Rosendale band and proved very satisfactory, both to the committee and all who attended the fair.

The free acts were above the average and elicited round after round of applause.

The program given each evening at the big tent was presented by local talent and delighted those who were present. Great credit is due Miss Martha Alden for the very efficient manner in which she handled this part of the program.

The entertainments given by the Leonard Players were well attended and the plays presented were up to the standard set by this really clever company.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Coddell died at the family home in Clyde, Tuesday at 12 o'clock. Funeral services were held today.

The public school opened here Monday with an enrollment of seventy-five scholars.

The Parochial school opened here Monday with an enrollment of fifty scholars.

Mrs. Geo. Holmes of Omaha, Neb. came to Clyde Sunday to see her sister- Miss Kate Felix, who has been very ill.

Mrs. Mary Murrin of Maryville is visiting this week at the homes of her mother, Mrs. Anna Graham, and sister, Mrs. James Enis, in Clyde.

Burlington Junction Post.

A chautauqua was assured for another year Monday when eighty -eight boosters of Burlington Junction and vicinity signed the contract guaranteeing the attraction. The Vawter chautauqua system, which has furnished the talent here for a number of years, will do so again next year.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Corken of Hiawatha, Kans., motored to Burlington Junction Saturday evening and visited with relatives and friends here and at Maryville until Tuesday. Miss Anna Helen and Robert, Jr., returned home with them. Mrs. Corken's mother, Mrs. Null, of Maryville, has not been in good health for several weeks and Mrs. Corken spent most of her time with her mother.

Going against the Boche in six big battles and coming through them with nothing worse than a little gas, was the lucky experience of Sergeant Garland O. Headrick, who returned home Friday evening from overseas service. Garland left Nodaway county September 19, 1917, for Camp Funston, Kan., and after training there several months was sent overseas the folowing spring. It seems that Garland was destined to be in the thick of it from the first, and that he did efficient work against the Hun is shown by his promotion to sergeant. After helping lick the enemy Garland's division was sent into Germany to keep order along the Rhine, and remained there nine months. Garland landed in this country on August 22 and received his discharge at Camp Taylor, Ky., August 28. Like other Burlington Junction boys he is glad to be back home once more and his many friends are just as glad to have him back.

Harry Barr, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Barr, living west of Burlington Junction, had his collar bone broken in an accident Saturday. Dr. Hindman was called and dressed the injury.

With a total enrollment of 255 the Burlington Junction school began the year's work Tuesday morning. Enrollment was made in both the high school and grades before Tuesday in order that the pupils might attend the Monday program of the chautauqua, which closed that day. The freshman class of the high school is the largest in the school's history, with an enrollment of thirty. Just as notable is the small number of students in the junior year, there being only seven in that class. The senior class is also small. The total enrollment in the high school is 80, and in the grades as follows: First grade, 31; second, 14; third, 26; fourth, 22; fifth, 22; sixth 28; seventh, 20; eighth, 12.

The T. C. Cooper Auto Company which has had temporary quarters in the Corken garage building, has moved to the McKnight building on West Main street, formerly occupied by W. G. Carpenter.

There will be a jolly time at the new garage on East Main street tonight when a large party will have a genuine old fashioned "house warming." W. G. Carpenter, who occupies the building, will furnish the refreshments, which will be served by J. G House of the Nyal store, with Delicia ice cream the main item on the menu.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Booher returned to their home in Kincaid, Kas., Monday after a visit of several days with relatives here and at Maryville. The Booher family lived here for many years and are well known in this section of the county. They have been living in Kincaid for some time, moving there from Centralia, Kans.

Russell Marfin has been compelled to walk with the assistance of crutches for several days as a result of an infection in his foot. He was visiting his cousin, Mrs. J. M. Delezene, and family at Albany last week when the foot began to pain him. It became so serious that he decided to return home, and he has since been getting it dressed twice daily.

Word was received this week by A. F. Stitt of the death of Rev. Jesse W. Gresham, who was called twice to the pastorate of the Christian church here a number of years ago. He died at St. Francis hospital in Monmouth, Ill., after being confined to his bed three months following an automobile accident, in which his car was struck by a passenger train. His death occurred May 20, but no word of it was received here until Mr. Stitt received the letter this week from Mrs. Gresham. The family now lives at Bushnell, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. James Messbarger returned Friday evening from a three weeks' trip to the east. On the way out they visited Chicago, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. In New York City they spent some time with relatives of Mrs. Messbarger and while there they were fortunate in seeing "Happy Days" at the great hippidrome. Had they been a little later they would have missed this attraction, as the actors' strike took place shortly after. While in New York, Mr. and Mrs. Messbarger visited Brooklyn and the many points of interest on Long Island.

Hopkins Journal.

Floyd (Skeet) Rickard and Bob Filson, two Hopkins soldier boys, arrived home last Saturday night and now "they are all here", these two being the last to return. "Skeeter" was in the hospital corps, being a pharmacist's mate, and has the distinction of having crossed the ocean seven times, each trip being made on the Mt. Vernon, the kaiser's old ship that was taken while interned in our harbors. During the past six months he has traveled fifty thousand miles, or twice the distance around the world. While he did not ocupy them he got a peep at the kaiser's suite of rooms on the Mt. Vernon, as well as the suite of rooms of the crown prince, the rooms being just as they were when they were used by the German "nobility." "Skeeter" is looking well and says he is "tickled to death" to get home, having had all the war experience he cares for. He will remain in Hopkins, taking his old place back as pharmacist at the Owl Pharmacy. He received his honorable discharge at the Great Lakes training school near Chicago. Bob Filson was with the army of occupation and saw active service. He looks as natural as an old shoe, but, like "Skeeter", has had his fill of war and is glad to be able to return home to take up farming again. He was honorably discharged at Camp Taylor, Ky.

Grandma Davis has bought the Jake Burch property in east Hopkins for $1800, through the agency of Frank Melick. Fred Monroe has bought the French property in the same part of town, the consideration being $1800. He will occupy it after the first of November. Through the agency o Cecil Appleton, Mrs. Frances A. Davis is now owner of the Eva Brainerd property in east Hopkins, paying $1200 for it. Through the agency of Will Orme, Ed Wiley has sold his 147-acre farm southeast of Hopkins to Harvey Howard at $167.50 an acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wiseman leave this week for Ledora, Iowa, where both have secured good positions in their professions—that of teaching—and Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Miller went to Hannibal the first of the week where they, too, will teach during the coming year.

When John Anderson went to Colorado and Wyoming in his car in July he got something that he was not expecting, and it wasn't hay fever, either, but a great big bouncing red-headed grandson, born July 27, to Fay Glass and wife of near Carpenter, Wyo., Mrs. Glass being Miss June Anderson before her marriage. The little fellow has been christened Roy D.

John R. King returned from Chicago last week where he sold a car load of choice yearlings at $17.65 per hundred, the top for car load lots. They weighed 920 pounds and attracted much attention in the yards, so Hopkins is advertised in more ways than one.

Earl Miller will attend the Northwestern university at Evanston this year instead of the Missouri State University.

Miss Kathryne Brown will leave this week to resume her work in the commercial department of the Eldorado, Kans., high school.

County Superintendent Bert Cooper and W. M. Oakerson, formerly school superintendent of this county, but now of Jefferson City, have bought the Claude Cooper eighty-acre farm near Gaynor City.

Charley Hall has rented of Fred Woolridge the building recently vacated by the Owl Pharmacy and is fixing it up to be used for a restaurant.

Ed and Charley (Horsejuggler) McIntire arrived here Tuesday evening from their home in Vancouver, British Columbia, the trip being made in a big Stutz roadster the boys bought just before leaving the north. They left Vancouver two weeks ago and made good time considering bad roads they encountered at different points. They also stopped two days while coming, one day in Seattle and one day in Denver, the speedometer showing they had traveled 2300 miles when they reached Hopkins. The boys are looking good, especially "Horsejuggler," who has grown corpulent since leaving here. They expect to spend two weeks here visiting their parents, Chas. McIntire, Sr., and wife, and with other relatives and friends.

Guy Blanchard's new Ford touring car, the one he took out from Hopkins last Saturday, was stolen Tuesday night from the driveway of his son, Loy's, barn on the old Geo. Ulmer farm, three miles southwest of Hopkins. When L. Morehouse and wife were driving home from the Hopkins Chautauqua Tuesday night they noticed an old Ford sitting in the weeds near the Blanchard home and it is now thought the car belonged to the party or parties stealing the Blanchard car. There was no insurance on the Blanchard car and no trace of it or the thieves has so far been discovered.

David Robb, who has been bookkeeper for the gas company in Kansas City, was at home over Sunday, and while here told the Journal he had decided to leave the city and go to work for the Earl McCleave Hardware Co., at Barnard. To begin with, he will operate a tractor in turning under about 200 acres of land that Earl will put in wheat, after which he will likely be placed in charge of the garage. McCleave had in about 400 acres of wheat two years ago and cleaned up something like $5000 clear profit, and is hoping to do as well with this venture.

Pickering Items: Here's the ratio: For every Pickering person who attended the Maryville chautauqua there were twenty who went to the cheap John circus given there last Saturday, so there is ample room for the tastes of the American people to be improved.

Good Hope Items: Wm. Hurst wonders if anyone in the county is paying more rent for corn ground than he is. He pays Henry Behm $17 an acre for the forty he rented of him. He has cracking good corn on it and may come out with flying colors.

Skidmore News.

Four sisters, Mrs. Mary Prowell of Burnside, Pa., Mrs. Winnie Abbott of Muncie, Ind., Mrs. Ida Davis of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Matilda Strickler of this city, are enjoying a very pleasant visit together in Mrs. Strickler's home here. Their brother, Elbridge Ensminger, of near Grundy Center, Iowa, was also here from Saturday until Thursday, visiting with his sisters. Mesdames Davis, Powell and Abbott expect to leave Friday for Camp Point, Ill., where they spent their girlhood, to visit with relatives and friends before returning to their homes.

G. Logan Larkman of Wilsall, Mont. is here and will open a real estate loan and insurance office in this city.

A. A. Tarpley who for several year has lived at Cyril, Okla., has again become a resident of Nodaway county He has located at Maryville so his children can be afforded the opportunity of attending school there. Mr. Tarpley was a Skidmore visitor Monday evening and Tuesday.

Mrs. Mabel Newlon and her two girls came over from Maryville the latter part of last week and are again residents of Skidmore. They occupy the Mrs. Mary Burke property.

R. G. (Dick) Smith and family now live in Maryville, having moved to that place last week from the place he disposed of to J. F. Kellogg some time ago.

Two Monroe township rural school boys were tied in the highest grades in the examination held in Skidmore at the 1919 spring examination and the Skidmore school board, which gives a high school scholarship to both the boy and girl making the highest grade in that examination, left it to the two boys to settle which would be receive his tuition free. Both the boys, Harry McDaniel and Paul Taylor, wanted to be fair in the matter and after talking it over they agreed that each should pay half of the year's tuition.

A delegation from the Burr Oak Farmers Club, consisting of Chris Jackson, Milt Hays, Rev. C. H. Sauceman and W. W. Grigsby, left Monday evening to attend a conference of farmers' club men at Sedalia. Mr. Grigsby was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Grigsby.

Because of the failing health of Mrs. New, Yuba New and family expect to leave next week for California with the hope that the change of climate may prove beneficial to her.

The Sylvester Bosley farm of 120 acres known as the Shockley place, about ten miles southeast of town, was sold to Dakan Bros. at $200 an acre one day last week.

Milk May Cost 18 Cents a Quart.

St. Louis, Sept. 5.—If the price of $3.75 a hundred pounds demanded by the Southern Illinois Milk Producers' Association is paid by St. Louis distributors the price of milk to St. Louis consumers will have to be raised to 18 cents a quart, A. L. Ottnad, manager of the Jersey Farm Dairies, says. The present price is 15 cents a quart. An investigation by city officials has been under way for several weeks to determine why this price has been changed by the distributors. D. A. Brooks of Marine, Ill., president of the Milk Producers' Association, says producers are not getting what they should for milk.

Grafts Sheep Bone on Leg.

Carrolton, Mo., Sept. 5.—With the grafting of the bone of a sheep on the shinbone of Sam Williams, a farmer of Miami Station, near here, the necessity of amputating the limb was removed, and Mr. Williams will be as well as ever, doctors say. Following a fracture of the shinbone necrosion set in and amputation seemed necessary. At a local hospital four inches of the bone was removed and two pieces of bone taken from a sheep's leg grafted on. The graft is proving successful, and the leg will be saved.

POCKET BIBLE WITH BULLET HOLE SOUVENIR OF THE WAR

Lost, Found and Returned to Giver. It Has a Mystery Connected With Shooting.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 5.—A pocket Bible with a bullet hole neatly drilled through it is the souvenir now in the possession of Mrs. Claudia DuBose, of Waycross, who is visiting relatives in Atlanta. And there is a mystery connected with it.

Sergeant Madison M. Buice, Seventh Infantry, Third Division, received the Bible from Mrs. DuBose, his sister, for a Christmas present while he was serving in France. Some time afterward he lost it.

A short time ago Mrs. DuBose received the Bible, with a bullet hole through it, with a letter from a Dane who wrote that he had found it on a battlefield. On the flyleaf was the inscription, "From Claudia to Matt," and Mrs. DuBose's street address, and the Bible had come through the mails safely addressed only to:

Mrs. Cladia, 57 Gilmer street, Waycross, Ga., U. S. A.

Whether some other soldier was carrying the Bible when the bullet went through it, whether he was killed or his life saved by the book, is a story that probably will never be told. Sergeant Buice said he certainly didn't have it when the bullet struck it.

Hogs Fed on Combination.

More than two thousand hogs were being fed in July on eight Atchison county farms visited by a member of the Extension Service of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. The hogs had the run of alfalfa and clover pastures and received a half ration of corn during early summer. About the middle of the month they were started on full feed of corn and tankage in self-feeders. Three hundred hogs from one of these herds were shipped out in July. They had made an average gain of 1.4 pounds a day for the last thirty days. Equal parts of ground barley and ear corn had been used to supplement the alfalfa pasturage.

Did You Ever Make a "Fizzle"?

After you had put your best effort into mixing a perfectly good cake and "laid it up" with the utmost care, and put it in the oven and have it bake so slow that it settled down into an unrecognizable mass, or so fast that it literally burned to death?

The only thing you CAN NOT make with an electric range is a "fizzle." You set the automatic thermometer at the temperature you want the oven and when it gets that hot the current shuts off. The oven will remain that hot until the cake is baked.

If you want to put the cake in and go away you can set the clock at the time you want the heat turned on and the clock will turn the electricity on at that time, and the thermometer will turn it off when the oven reaches the right heat. YOU DO NOT EVEN HAVE TO BE AT HOME to bake a cake by electricity.

Let us show you the electric ranges and explain how they work and what the average cost of fuel amounts to for those who are using them.

Doughboys Had a Real Hard Struggle Figuring Out the Money Over There

Money feature. 2a

St. Louis, Mo. Sept. 5—Next to learning the language of the foreigners with whom they were thrown into contact in France, Belgium or Germany, the most difficult problem that confronted the soldier of the American Expeditionary Forces was money valuations.

Francs, centimes and sous were made of copper and were hard to carry—consequently unpopular. The largest silver coin in general circulation was the two-francs piece. All money above this denomination was printed on a cheap paper that would wear out in a short time.

"Remember the trouble we had with ethose five and ten and twety-franc notes," said a veteran as a group of former soldiers were gathered at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Club here.

"I sure do", replied another. "Every payday there was a crap game in the street—for officers paid no attention to gambling over there. Each fellow in the game piled up his roll of French money in front of him and the game started. There was not one out of a dozen at first who knew what the money was worth.

"I'll shoot this," some guy would say, peeling off a twenty franc or a fifty-franc note. Then when the winners pulled in their pots out would go the hands and the paper money would be wadded into a ball, as is often done with our money. The result—about two crap games and the money was worn out. "Lord how I have heard the old French women rave when they had to accept a piece of paper money that had been through a serious crap game."

"But what got me was the German money we ran into up through Luxemburg and Germany," said another veteran. "I had always figured that a mark was worth 25 cents, and it was in normal times, but the war had depreciated its value. When we got to Treves the quartermaster announced that the rate of exchange was 142 marks for 100 francs. Two weeks later when (more) we had crossed the Rhine the announcement came that 100 francs was worth 168 marks.

"Several of the fellows in my outfit got wise to the fact that the quartermaster was giving 168 marks for 100 francs and that the bank in coblenz wa sonly giving 142. They pooled all the money they could get secured an automobile and drove to Coblenz and bought francs for 142 marks, went back to the quartermaster and exchanged them for 168 marks and repeated this performance all day. They were more than 15000 marks ahead by night."

If Over the H. C. of L. You've Thought, Peruse Here What a Postman Brought

September 4, 1919.

Editor Democrat-Forum:

A neat little tract entitled "Food for Thought" found its way to my doorstep this morning. On perusal of its pages, I found that it dealt on the subject of the world's shortage of foodstuffs occasioned by the war.

After feasting on its pages, it occurred to me that the Mother Goose rhymes stood in sad need of revision; and as the good old Mother has long since passed away, I felt it incumbent on me to seige one of her quills—the only reminder left of her once flourishing tribe—and bring a few of her most famous jingles up to date.

With apologies to Mother Goose.

THOMAS WILSON,
Kansas City, Mo.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

Old Mother Hubbard, she went to the cupboard
To see what war's havoc had wrought;
When she got there the cupboard, once bare,
Was filled full of food — for her thought.

Little Tom Tucker once sang for his supper,
And this is the supper he got:
No beef and potatoes or corn and tomatoes,
But plenty of food—for his thought.

Little Jack Horner arose from the corner,
And over the floor doth he trot.
He found if he sat it would make him too fat—
He had too much food—for his thought.

Little Miss Muffit who sat on a tuffet
A change in her diet hath wrought;
No more can she pay for the curd or the whey,
But she's plenty of food — for her thought.

That family of Sprats who once had their spats
As over the plate they fought—
Now no fat or no lean on that platter is seen,
But there's plenty of food—for their thought.

So if you meet with a loss, or the wifey is cross
Because no bacon you've bought,
You'll find it no harder to keep up the larder—
Just fill it with food—for her thought.

If your limbs they are bare and you can't find a square
And your inwards seem tied in a knot,
It matters but little if there's no soup in the kettle—
There's plenty of food — for your thought.

So let's spread a great feast from the West to the East,
From mansion to lowliest cot,
I'll bet my old hat we'll all laugh and grow fat,
For there's plenty of food for our thought.

So hang up the skillet—if the baby squalls, kill it—
Let joy go around in a trot;
Go on with the show; let streams of joy flow,
For we've plenty of food—for our thought.

SKIDMORE SHORTHORNS WIN AT THE IOWA STATE FAIR

Nine Head From Barber Herd Take Ten Prizes—Will Go to Kansas City Show

After attending the Iowa State Fair at Des Moines, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Barber and W. F. Barber have returned home, says the Skidmore News.

At that fair they exhibited nine head of choice individuals from their herds of Shorthorns which succeeded in carrying away ten premiums.

The nine head that were exhibited consisted of one aged bull, one senior bull calf, one junior bull calf, one senior yearling heifer calf, one junior yearling heifer, two senior heifer calves and one junior heifer calf. All these cattle, with the exception of the aged bull, were bred and reared by the Barbers.

Three hundred Shorthorns were entered in the different contests at Des Moines and the fact that ten prizes were won with their exhibit of only nine head speaks volumes for the excellence of the Barber & Sons herd. One first was given on their junior bull calf, and different individuals from the remainder of the exhibit succeeded in pulling down a third, three fourths, three sixths, one seventh and one eighth prizes.

During the Missouri State Fair held at Sedalia a few weeks ago, this same herd won thirteen prizes in contests where about ninety animals were entered. Here two firsts, four seconds, five thirds, one fifth and one seventh were carried away by Barber & Sons.

The same animals will be taken to Kansas City and entered in the Royal Stock Show.

When Patrolmen Dick Hammond and William Bauswell arrived they found Green, who told them of the shooting.

"Did you run?" they asked.

"No, sah," replied Green. "I didn't run. I jes' evaporated."

TREAT IS ARRANGED FOR MARYVILLE MUSIC LOVERS

Free Concert Offered by Phonograph Company for Monday Night at First M. E. Church

At 8:18 o'clock next Monday evening the people of Maryville are to be offered a free musical treat. Madam Odette Le Fontenay, assisted by Charles Young, violinist, will give an out-of-the-ordinary program. The entertainment will be held at the First M. E. church under the auspices of the Koch Pharmacy and is a demonstration of the quality of music that is rendered by the New Edison phonograph.

The detailed program for the concert:

1. (a) Salut a la France, La Fille du Regiment ..... Donizetti
   (b) I Know a Lovely Garden ..... d'Hardelot

2. Mr. Young with Edison re-creations of violin solos.
3. Fantasie Impromptu.....Chopin
   Edison re-creation of a piano solo by Mr. Andre Benoist
4. (a) Some Day (old English ballad) ..... Wellings
   (b) The Swallows.....Cowen

   (b) The King of Thule (Faust) ..... Gounod
   (c) Barcarolle (Tales of Hoffman) ..... Offenbach
   Madam Le Fontenay and Mr. Young with Edison re-creations

The concert is making a hit wherever it is being held. The following from the Atchison County Journal tells how the program was received at Rock Port recently:

The concert which was given at the Christian church Tuesday evening was well attended and the church was full, extra chairs having to be placed in order to accommodate the people. Madame Le Fontenay is a member of the Metropolitan Opera company of New York. She sang in unison with the phonograph, which could hardly be distinguished from the machine itself, and when the lights were turned out to show the difference it was thought by some that Madame Le Fontenay was singing, but she was not, and it was the machine only with the record of her voice.

Mr. Young played the violin in unison with some pieces, which were rendered beautifully.

Jerry Clements died today at his home near Bolckow following an illness of tonsilitis. He arrived home a week ago yesterday from overseas service where he had been with the army of occupation since the signing of the armistice.

BLACK SIGNS NEW PITCHER FOR GAME HERE TOMORROW

"Babe" Welling Comes From Colorado —More Than Half of Tickets for Tournament Are Sold

Tomorrow the local baseball nine will meet the fast St. Joseph Stuppy Florals one of the best semi-professional teams in St. Joseph. The St. Joseph team comes here thinking to win an easy victory, but Manager Black states that he has a surprise for the visitors.

A new face will be seen in the lineup tomorrow for the home boys. Manager Black has obtained the services of W. L. ("Babe") Welling as pitcher. Welling comes from Colorado. While in that state he pitched for a county league team. He has a record of seven victories and two defeats.

The probable lineup of the Comets for tomorrow's game will be: Black, catcher; Welling, pitcher; Bluel pitcher; Tilson, first base; Buhler, second base; Conley, short stop; T. Tobin, third base; Scott, Heise, Brennen, E. Tobin and Carmichael outfielders.

One hundred and sixty tickets have been sold for the one-day baseball tournament to be held in Maryville soon. If 140 more tickets can be sold by Tuesday night, the tournament will be held the following Sunday, September 14. Otherwise it will have to be postponed until Sunday, September 21, if it is to be held at all.

The plan is to sell 300 hundred tickets at $1 each to finance the affair. Three games will be played, and four teams will engage in the tournament.

Manager Black announces that he expects to get "Lefty" Clark, a pitcher from Greenfield, Iowa, and other prominent ball players of this part of the country here to strengthen the local team for the three games.

Tickets are on sale at the Real Estate Bank, the Farmers Trust Company and the hotels. Get one.

Ruskin Hawkins, son of Prof. C. A. Hawkins of the State Teachers College, returned to Maryville last night from chautauqua work with his brother Winfred at Tonganoxie, Kan., and at Graham in this county. He reports good crowds, especially at Graham, where the backers of the chautauqua cleared a good sum. Winfred will continue his work for a week longer at Mendon, Mo., and will then return to Maryville. In October the brothers will enter the Rush Medical College in Chicago.

Last Day for Filing Suits.

The two suits on notes filed yesterday and the day before and the replevin suit for the Leech car tiled yesterday against Earl F. Addy of Parnell by the State Mutual Automobile Insurance Company of Rock Port bring the total for the Nodaway County circuit court docket up to 226 cases for the September term. Today is the last day for filing suits on notes and the like, in which fifteen day's service is allowed. The Clerk Henry Westfall expects to have the docket ready for the printer the first part of next week.

Waldo Holt's Station Changed.

Finds Life Still Interesting at Brest; This Is Good; Read It

Nodaway county soldiers who came home from France by way of Brest will appreciate the reference made to the mud fences in this letter of Lewis W. Campbell, published in the Parnell Sentinel. They will appreciate, too, the points about boxing, but so will lots of other folks in the county.

Camp Pontanezen, France,
August 16, 1919.

Dear Editor:—

Listen to this, please. I am no better than the last time I wrote you. Hope your are the same.

I am still at Camp Pontanezen. If you cannot pronounce that, just sneeze, and you have it proper. I have been writing so many letters to you lately that I have my chest thrown out at an angle of 45 degrees, just like a newspaper correspondent, but I have not been doing anything for a week or two and I have to write or I would find myself wandering from the straight and narrow path.

I have been taking long hikes in the country, and the mud fences are so thick you can hardly get anywhere if you get off the road. Of course, you have probably heard of these things I am telling you before now, but the French people have their fields squared off in little sections with about one acre in a field; then they have dirt fences around them instead of wire fences. This is the only kind of fence I have seen since I have been here.

Shows 'Em How to Box.

I was running the other night training for a boxing contest and I came across a farm house where there was a lot of soldiers. They were enjoying themselves with a pair of boxing gloves. I told them I would be glad to show them the rudiments of the game, and they sure made an idol out of me for a while. Sure, there were girls there, too. I showed them the feint, duck, jab, shift and a few other movements used in the boxing game and they were pleased to see me handle the other boys. Well, pretty soon there was another fellow came around the corner. He was training for the same thing I was. He asked me if I would show him how to beat a certain fellow whom he was to meet on Saturday night. I told him I would, and he put up his dukes and began dancing around me so fast he looked like the propellor of an airplane. Every time I swung at him I missed him so far I must have grazed someone in Parnell. I could not have hit him if I had had a grass sprinkler in my hand.

And Then They Stepped.

I was getting pretty much of a goat by this time, for I had been making quite a hit with the girls, and then to have a guy come along and submerge me like that was enough to get my nanny. However, I pulled off the gloves and asked him if I had showed him enough. Well, I trotted on down the road determined to get even with the first guy I happen to meet who crossed my path. It happened the next night. I decided I had had enough training and walked out into the country with my bunkie. We came across a shack called the "Dew Drop Inn." We had not been there very long before a guy came around and said to drop out. I told him I was a boxer and had a wicked shift I could put put almost anybody out with. Well, he got up and made a swing which took in all of northern France, and I shifted down the back stairs. "Oh, boy!" That guy hit me so hard it fore me loose from my shoe heels. I have pulled off one bout since that for the Y. M. C. A.. They gave me 200 francs for four rounds. I don't think that would be very many bills, but it goes a long way here.

Then Off to the Cafe.

The captain just came in and I kinda hinted I would like to get a little money. He said he had forty francs he did not need, so I can't stick around here, you know. I will owe him all my life before I will beat him out of the money. I think I will go out and get un vin blanc.

Wishing you the best of luck, I will close. I am,

Yours for the asking,
LEWIS W. CAMPBELL.

AUTOMOBILES IN MISSOURI SHOW INCREASE OF 37,914

Number Now Registered Is 225,954—Branch Office Has Been Established in St. Joseph.

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 5.—Two dollars and twenty cents a bushel for wheat and $1.80 a bushel for corn is reflected distinctively in the tremendous increase in the number of automobiles owned in Missouri.

Last year the total of automobiles registered in this state was 189,040. This year up to date the total registration is 225,954, an increase of 37,914, with the prospect that there will be an additional twenty-five thousand registered before the end of the year.

While there is a large increase in the cities, the bulk of the increase is in the country, indicating that farmers are buying more automobiles this year than ever before.

Of the total number registered for the state, St. Louis has up to date this year 42,585, and Kansas City 32,550.

A branch registrtion office was opened in St. Joseph August 1, and during the month registered 500 new machines.

Registration receipts turned into the good roads fund by Secretary of State Sullivan totals $2,649,644.10.

Canada Buys Battlefield.

London, Sept. 5.—The Canadian government is arranging for immediate purchase of plots of land on Viny Ridge, in the Ypres salient, at Passchondale, Cambria, Courrelette and all the sights of battles where the Canadian army distinguished itself.

Ground at Viny Ridge and elsewhere has already been given by the French government, but other plots will be purchased from the government and the peasant owners, so as to ensure for Canadian pilgrims for all time a real memento of the conditions under which the Canadians fought from the early part of 1915.

The battlefields mentioned have lately been visited by the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Minister of Labor in the last Liberal government of Canada, and a report by him on the project is the basis of the present negotiations.

Kansas City, Sept. 5.—Cupid won a 10 to 1 bet here on the board of trade. W. J. Mesendieck and James Russell, well known grain dealers, while at luncheon recently discussed marriage. Mesendieck bet Russell that he (Russell) would not be married within a year. Russell accepted the bet. The odds were 10 to 1.

Came the following telegram to Mesendieck from Russell a few days later:

"Mail us $10 care La Salle Hotel, Chicago. We need the money.

"Mr. and Mrs. James N. Russell."

The couple were sent the following reply:

"Inclosed find payment. Any man who would get married on a $10 bet at the expense of a friend deserves a heavy fine as well as suspension from the board of trade while he is absent."

Bids Too Low For Sheepskins.

Boston, Sept. 5.—Despite the loud protests of dealers that the high price of leather goods are due to a shortage of hides, bids for the sale of sheepskins were so low at the government sale at the army supply base that most of the goods were withdrawn after Auctioneer Alphonse P. Grinnel of Lynn had scored the bidders for their offerings. One lot of skins was sold to a New York bidder for seventeen cents, but three other lots were withdrawn when bids of fifteen and a half to sixteen cents a square foot were offered.

Dr. H. L. Stinson and Dr. Frank Wall is will go to Flint, Mich., next week to drive home a new Buick automobile, to be the property of Doctor Stinson.

His "Failure" Was Assured

Even successful business men predicted it.

About a dozen years ago Harry Selfridge sold his store in Chicago and went over to London. He built there a department store of great size, and from the day of its opening it has been conducted along American department store lines.

In the beginning all London was startled by his advertising. Page after page was used in the newspapers even before the store was open to the public. His failure was freely predicted. When his opening day arrived police were called out to keep the crowd in line. Selfridge's store was on the map. It has been on the map of London ever siene.

When in 1914, England entered the war, did Selfridge quit advertising? He did not. He did exactly the opposite—advertised more than ever. Today, according to his own statment, he is using all the space in newspapers that he is permitted to buy and would use more if he could get it. Result, his business is bigger and more profitable now than ever before, and he would build an addition to his store if the material and labor were available.

Harry Selfridge's recipe for big business and a profitable business is advertising. His recipe ought to be the recipe of retail merchants, big and little.

Advertising results are limited only by the number of homes of customers and prospective customers that the advertisement reaches.
